

WIRED REMOTE PTT'S

EXTEND YOUR ABILITY TO COMMUNICATE

We offer a wide variety of remote push-to-talk switches that allow you to extend and take full control of your communications remotely.

Finger Switch

The Finger Switch is a light weight universal remote switch that allows users to communicate without being noticed.

Includes an elastic strap that allows for many variations of wear. Users can place this switch on their palm and key using their finger tips or place it on the stock of your weapon.

Palm Switch

Halo Switch

The Halo Switch has a strap that fits over the user's hand and allows them to communicate without losing grip. This is a great option for airborne and turret operators.

The Dual T Switch also comes with an elastic strap that allows for many variations of wear. This switch also allows users to key multiple com sources remotely.

P-16 Dual PTT

M15 Body PTT

The M15 is a 2" round body switch that has an optional protection ring. The M15 allows for remote keying even underneath NBC suites.
